FullBuff API/Dataset

Dolthub

FullBuff currently uses Dolthub to store its datasets for easy collaboration and api access. Find our databases here:

v2 API

It seems ETF2L's v2 api docs dont actually exist, and they want you to just use the v1 docs for the most part.
No idea what they are doing over there, we will probably add our own abstraction on top of theirs if we run into issues with it

From some initial testing, it looks to be leagues better than RGL's, things like getting all seasons is super easy, and even returns them in descending order with the latest seasons coming first.
